

1. Community Engagement and Social Responsibility

In order to inculcate values of community engagement in students and to generate social attitudes in young minds, college plays a key role in inculcation of these characteristics by making serious efforts to improve the social connect through various initiatives. One such initiative is that NSS units of the college organize Sabeel camp annually on 10th of Muharram for local community members. The mourners of Muharram procession are provided some refreshment in the form of fresh fruits, juices, snacks, etc. However, there are some problems that are being faced in conduct of these practices like motivation for participation creates hassles in implementation on a larger scale, financial constraints, etc. These constraints need to be addressed.

2. Environmental Consciousness

For inculcating green thinking among stakeholders and to help improve green cover of campus and beyond, young minds need to be channelized towards environmental problems. College regularly organizes programmes concerning the issue to ensure massive participation. In this direction, cleanliness drives and plantation drives in campus and beyond are frequently organized by college Eco-club and NSS Units. Many activities are organized in collaboration with district forest offices in order to broaden the scope of these objectives of greening the surroundings. Such activities have improved green cover of college significantly.
